

TALES FROM TAN-IRICID - JORUNI NEWS

4TH EDITION LOOMS

It's official, work is beginning slowly on the 4th edition of SkyRealms of Jorune. I have no idea who will publish this, but it's confirmed that no more 3rd edition supplements will be released. Just in case you're not sure what 3rd edition material is available check the following list and then snap up the remaining copies:

3RD EDITION RULEBOOK
THE SHOLARI PACK
THE INNOCENTS OF GAUSS
THE GIRE OF SILLIPUS
THE SOBAYID ATLAS

There has been a software mishap with the original files for the 3rd edition, so the Jorune mailing list (see below) is manually re-typing the whole thing via the net. Gratitude is due to this "volunteer thriddle squadron", to use Joe Coleman's phrase. I'd guess that we won't see the 4th edition for at least a year, but I'll keep trawling for information.

LAMORRI HIT BACK

This could have a bearing on the 4th edition as well. Alex Blair informs me that the Lamorri may return in the near future of Jorune's official time line, seriously disrupting the isho and altering Jorune's moons. He also mentioned something about a whopping great meteor hitting the planet but I'm not sure how this fits in.

We do have some solid information about the Lamorri: the Eelshon She-Evid is an exact replica of one of these space nasties, which confirms the rumour that the shantha created it to mock their oppressors (as well as kick the shite out of them). There is also the fact that Tan-Iricid was the Lamorri HQ, the Doben-al was created by Lamorri draining isho from the area, and bochigon were Lamorri riding beasts. Also note that a Lamorrid evid created by modern shanthas is a small Lamorri replica and is 13 feet tall. Ouch!

A related fact which I find fascinating is that Tan-Iricid apparently contains a beacon that could alert the Cleash homeworld that members of their race are stranded on Jorune. If the Cleash could activate this beacon maybe their brethren would come and rescue them. Now that's something to keep sensitive tauter awake at night.

JORUNE ON THE NET

All the following info is reprinted from Issue 3 of "Sholari", but I'm sure Joe Coleman won't mind me spreading this further.

Jorune Net Mailing List

Subscribe by sending e-mail to JORUNE-L-REQUEST@io.com with the subject SUBSCRIBE and the message SUBSCRIBE<your e-mail address> in the message.

FTP Sites

There are two FTP sites. The primary one is at ftp.edu.berkeley.edu/pub/jorune, and the other is opt-sci.catalina.arizona.edu.

Sholari

You can reach Joe's fanzine at TheSholari@aol.com.

Jorune WWW Page

Joe is working on this and notice will be served on the mailing list.

All the above is complete gobbildigook to me.

NO SLEEP 'TIL NORTHAMPTON?

I'm pleased to say that there will be a Jorune get-together at Contraptions '96. Guest of honour for the event as a whole is Steve Jackson, but there is also a possibility that Joe Coleman will make trip from Californ-i-a. Only a possibility mind...

Contraptions will be held in Northampton on the 24-25 of August, 1996. Membership is £25 and the organisers can be e-mailed at:

contraptions@vger.demon.co.uk, or on the WWW at <http://www2.augusta.co.uk/~lrm/contraps.html>.

The postal address is:

Contraptions
12 Cartersmead Close
Horley
Surrey
RH6 9LG

"Borkelby's Folly" will be there, hopefully with pint in hand and definitely with a few issues to flog (I have to pay for the train ticket somehow!). Go on, come along and show us your orbs.